

Level 2 Health and Safety – Catering

Course Description

Working safely is in the interest and concern of all staff, both employers and employees. Health and safety is one of the few areas where the law places specific duties specifically on employees so a knowledge of where this applies and how to ensure that it is adhered to is vital to protect individuals and businesses.

This section of the Working Safely course, takes you through ten topics which are vital in keeping yourself and your colleagues safe in a commercial catering environment.

The section works through various topics including First aid, Burns and Scalds, Illness protocol, Equipment safety etc to ensure that you are fully aware of the dangers and risks posed by working in these types of environments. There is also important information regarding the Safe use of chemicals and cleaning procedures.

Target Audience

This course is a great induction course in relation to health and safety as it covers a wide range of topics in some detail.

Advantages

As this course covers a wide range of health and safety situations the course provides a strong basis to further build on with more training.

Online training is flexible, efficient and cost effective meaning the candidate can progress through the modules at their own pace and in their own time, so they can fit the training around their work and personal life.
